

Legal help starts with a conversation.

An ordinary phone call. A clearer account. Assistance you choose.

We are building Nyaya so people can explain a legal problem in a language they are comfortable speaking. AI helps organise their story into a structured brief. An advocate provides professional judgment through a human review path.

01 Speak in your own words

The intended service uses an ordinary telephone call, without requiring a smartphone app or typed prompts.

02 Confirm what matters

Check names, dates and amounts. Preserve the caller's account, corrections and missing information.

03 Choose the next step

Sharing, contact and particular actions need separate permission. AI does not send notices or file proceedings.

For advocates

Proposed X - Review and Y - Assist workspaces combine a useful brief with permission-controlled assistance. The local demonstration uses five distinct authorised matters per period. Prices and final terms remain to be confirmed.
